Mulieres to Conduct Membership Drive

Three Weeks' Campaign Is for Benefit of Narberth Fire Company.

NAME DISTRICT LEADERS

A three weeks' membership drive for the benefit of the Narberth Fire Company was planned by the Mulieres Auxiliary of the Fire Company at their meeting on Monday afternoon. It will be conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Frederick A. Egmire and Mrs. William Sibley.

"Do you know," said one of the Mulieres, "that the Narberth Fire Company has active firemen who volunteer their service to protect your home and family and who are ready to respond at any time during the day or night, when a devastating fire threatens your home?"

"By joining this organization of the Narberth Fire Company, to which every householder should belong, you not only will help in the necessary overhead expenses of the company, but you will also save money on your Fire Insurance by having an adequately equipped company."

Last year a big benefit was given and most of the people responded liberally. This year the Mulieres do not want to have a benefit but would like to have the residents of the Borough become contributing members at the cost of three dollars a year, which will give ample protection. Of course, every resident does not have to become a

Community Club to Meet Tuesday Afternoon

The first regular meeting in the new year of the Woman's Community Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Elm Hall. The first hour of this meeting will be devoted to open discussion of the future housing plans of the club. Later there will be a musical program under the direction of Mrs. J. Fred Kuebler, Jr., chairman of the Music Department. Mrs. A. E. Davis and Mrs. E. A. Lane will be at the tea table.

On January 20 the club will hold another card party. Mrs. L. W. Melcher and Mrs. W. R. Knauer are the chairmen and reservations may be made with them.

Discuss Club Policies

A discussion of plans and policies for the coming year featured the meeting Monday night of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, held at the Cynwyd Club.

A full discussion of programs and speakers' topics was entered into by the club membership, together with plans for membership and publicity. The president, William H. Decker, was in the chair.

Annual Meeting of Federation Tuesday

Kenneth L. M. Pray to Speak on 'Social Work in Time of Crises.'

WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Kenneth L. M. Pray will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Main Line Federation of Churches to be held on Tuesday evening, January 13, at the Ardmore Woman's Club, Ardmore Avenue, Ardmore.

Mr. Pray, a resident of Narberth and president of the Borough School Board, is director of the Pennsylvania School for Social and Health Work in Philadelphia. His subject will be "Social Work in Times of Crises."

An election of officers and reading of annual reports will also take place. The president of the Federation, the Rev. William M. Kieffer, of the Llanerch Presbyterian Church, will preside.

Stockholders Meet Tuesday

Contrary to a news item published in last week's issue, the annual stockholders' meeting of the Narberth National Bank will be held Tuesday, January 13, at 5 P. M. and not today. The mistake occurred in copying the date from the legal notice in another part of the paper, which was correct.

On Board of Mont. Co. Children's Aid Society

Mrs. Fletcher W. Stites, of Narberth, and Mr. J. Bruce Byall, of Bryn Mawr Avenue, Penn Valley, were re-elected to the Board of the Montgomery County Children's Aid Society at the annual meeting of the society held on Monday at Norristown.

In the year's report, which will be published shortly, the County Secretary outlined the services rendered by the society in 1930. The one hundred and forty-nine new applications that were received this year involved the welfare of 359 children. In some cases advice only was given, or applications were referred to proper family agencies. The Children's Aid Society tries first of all to keep homes together, and children are only removed as a last resort.

Thirty-six children were received for care in 1930, while 37 were discharged to relatives or themselves. Two entered Pennhurst State Institution for the Feeble-minded at Spring City.

Plan Sauer Kraut Luncheon

A sauer kraut luncheon will be held at the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church social room at 12 noon on January 22. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Murray, whose telephone number is Narberth 3895-M.

Braslau to Sing in Ardmore on Monday

Recital at Senior High Inaugurates Community Concert Series.

IS RENOWNED ARTIST

An artist of international renown, Sophie Braslau, contralto, will give a concert recital at the Lower Merion Senior High School on Monday evening at 8.15. The concert, sponsored by the Main Line Community Concert Association, which was organized last spring, is the first of three concerts to be given under its auspices on the Main Line this season.

The program will include selections from Handel, Rachmaninoff, Beethoven, a group of Negro spirituals, and others.

Possessed of a voice of uncommon range and flexibility, Miss Braslau sings with perfect diction in her native English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Russian and Hebrew. Some of her songs in ancient Hebrew have been acclaimed the most remarkable things she does.

Miss Braslau was born and educated in New York City. Her parents, both of Russian birth, encouraged her musical tendencies through sound education. Her operatic debut at the Metropolitan, made on exceedingly short notice with a difficult role, was hailed by music critics. Her success in the concert field, both in this country and abroad, has been phenomenal.

Hear of Camp Life

Vincent Pearce, an instructor in the Lower Merion High School, gave an informal talk on camp life to the members of the Sub-Junior Department of the Women's Community Club of Narberth at their regular meeting on Monday evening which was held in Elm Hall. Mr. Pearce was enthusiastically received by a large audience, who attended in spite of the very stormy weather. Miss Dorothy Scadding was the hostess.

Prompt Action of Nine-Year-Old Boy Saves Little Girl From Drowning in Lakeview Pond

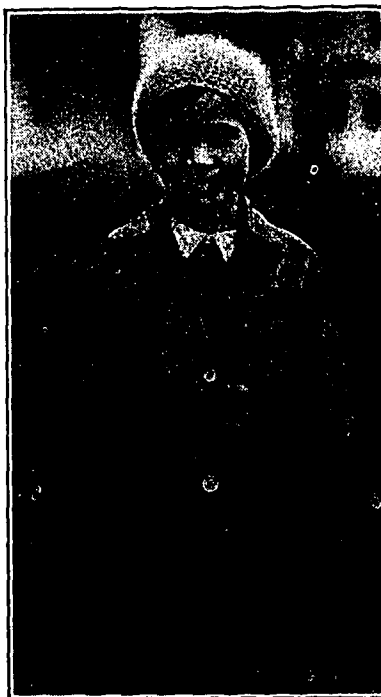

The prompt and brave action of a young boy saved a little girl from death by drowning in Narberth last Friday afternoon.

The scene of the near tragedy was the pond in front of the Lakeview Apartments at Windsor and Wynnewood Avenues. The little girl, Betty Jane Anderson, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Anderson, of 95 Windsor Avenue, was playing around the pond about four o'clock when the ice gave way, plunging her into several feet of water.

She had gone down twice when Jack Borden, aged nine, saw her predicament, and went to her rescue. Though clad in a heavy coat Jack plunged into the icy water and managed to drag Betty ashore.

Both of the youngsters were well chilled by the experience and while Jack's mother, Mrs. John A. Borden, of 15 Windsor Avenue, was looking after him, another neighbor, Mrs. Henry A. Smith, of 21 Windsor Avenue, took charge of Betty, putting her to bed and getting her electric warming pads and hot drinks.

Fortunately neither of them suffered any ill effects from the accident and both returned to school on Monday. Jack is a pupil at St. Margaret's School, and Betty is a second grade pupil in the Narberth Public School.

Among the citations from the Bible is the following: "I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world" (John 6:51).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one of which reads: "If all who ever partook of the sacrament had really commemorated the sufferings of Jesus and drunk of his cup, they would have revolutionized the world. His true flesh and blood were his Life; and they truly eat his flesh and drink his blood, who partake of that divine Life"

Narberth Theatre Notes

All sorts of thrills and clever sleuthing go to make "Scotland Yard" an interesting picture. With Edmund Lowe and Joan Bennett in it, the film is playing at the Narberth Theatre this Friday and Saturday. In addition, there are several entertaining short features on the program.

Singing superbly, Ramon Novarro plays a pleasing part in "Call of the Flesh," the drama coming to Narberth next Monday and Tuesday.

Ronald Colman has a characterization that fits him like a glove, in "Raffles," the Narberth's feature next Wednesday and Thursday. Based on the famed novel and stage melodrama, the cinema's cast includes Kay Francis. Good entertainment.

Egyptian Theatre News

Imitations of famed radio characters are part of William Haines' latest smart bits in "Remote Control," thrilling, amusing story of a broadcasting station and a gang of thieves—playing at the Egyptian Theatre this week-end. Also on the program is another new "Our Gang" comedy, "Pups Is Pups."

Good entertainment for the entire family is provided in "Monte Carlo," the Ernest Lubitsch production scheduled for Cynwyd next Monday and Tuesday. Better even than "Love Parade," its cast, which includes Jeanette MacDonald and Jack Buchanan, puts over some clever and tuneful scenes—including the ditty sung over the telephone, the clock gag, the scene from "Monsieur Beaucaire," and the trio warbling "Trimmin' the Women."

"Way for a Sailor," the Egyptian's feature next Wednesday and Thursday, gives John Gilbert a chance to perform far more capably than in recent years, with the funny Wallace Beery for his roughneck pal. Leila Hyams is in the cast, too. Adding considerably to the program's interest is a short subject—the most unusual and widely discussed ever presented. It is "Killing the Killer"—the fight between a mongoose and a cobra, with a vivid description by Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the New York Zoo.

"Laughter," the new Nancy Carroll dramatic hit, with Fredric March in the leading supporting role, is coming to Cynwyd next week-end. It is one of the most important films of the season.

In the Theater

Three plays will leave Philadelphia after tomorrow night's performance: "Green Grow the Lilacs," that entertaining and excellent Theatre Guild production at the Garrick; "The Storm Song," at the Broad; "You Said It," at the Forrest.

At the Shubert. On Monday night, George White's musical comedy, "Flying High," scored a mild success. Bert Lahr is very, very funny a good bit of the time and Oscar Shaw, as usual, registers with the fair sex. And he can sing his songs effectively.

At the Erlanger. "Sweet Adeline" continues to be pleasantly tuneful and to evoke much laughter. Charles Butterworth and Irene Franklin amuse quite heartily.

At the Chestnut Street Opera House. Lew Leslie's "Blackbirds," with an all-star cast of 100 colored artists, continues.

At the Walnut. Under the auspices of the Professional Players, "Topaze," starring Frank Morgan, proves just as popular as it has been in New York and abroad.

Coming In

At the Broad. "Strictly Dishonorable," by Preston Sturges. Shouldn't be missed. One of the best ten plays of the year and with a record run in New York to prove it.

At the Forrest. Ethel Barrymore in the much-talked of play, "Scarlet Sister Mary."

At the Garrick. "Ladies All," with Walter Woolf and Violet Heming.

Passion Play

At the Metropolitan Opera House for two weeks beginning January 19, the Freiberg Passion Play will be presented.

This Freiburg version of "The Passion Play" was first acted in 1264, when the liturgical mysteries were common everywhere on the continent. Through various interesting transformations it has developed into the full story of Christ's entrance into Jerusalem, the expulsion of the money changers from the temple, the Last Supper, His betrayal, the faltering judgment of Pilate, the grim march to the hill, the rude gaming of the ruffians at the cross, the claiming of the body, the resurrection and the ascension. Such mystery plays the monks of old acted in the cathedrals to teach the laity, and in the course of time the plays came out of the cathedrals to the squares, where the village craftsmen acted them. At Freiburg, at Oberammergau, for that matter, and in other places they are still kept in existence, chiefly for out-of-doors playing.

So they come down to us burdened with the long history of the common people—relics of common aspiration; they are bursting with humanity. Since 1760 the Freiburg "Passion Play" has been not only a tradition of that Black Forest town, but of the Fasnacht family, one of whom now plays the Christ, another Judas, and four others play minor parts. Every three years they perform it in Freiburg. Since August the company has been mounting the "Passion Play" throughout the Middle West, augmenting the Freiburg troupe everywhere with great bodies of the local people, and training the local choirs.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

I do not say that card playing and dancing are wrong—it would be absurd for anyone to say that they were.

This does not alter the fact, however, that they appear to be pretty empty things to be doing on the night of the day on which Christ was born.

The spectacle of two hundred people away from their homes on a Christmas night in a public hall would not appear to be possible in a Christian community like Narberth.

Suggested Remedies

This week we turn over our editorial columns for a further discussion of a subject we introduced here recently—the inefficient system of impaneling jurors in the county courts. The letter is from Mrs. Conyers Read, of Villanova, vice chairman of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, and the material following suggests remedies for the situation.

To the Editor:

Your editorial of December 12, "the citizen and the law's delay," gave very proper publicity to a situation that is much more than an annoyance to those called upon for jury service. As your title suggests it is a situation which has definite bearing upon the expediting and the administration of justice within the courts.

The unbusinesslike methods prevailing under the present court system are making it, as every judge knows, increasingly difficult to get the best type of citizen, man or woman, willingly to accept jury service. And without the best type of men and women on juries what are we to hope for the administration of justice? Judge Ambler Williams, of Montgomery County, has likened jury service in importance to military service in time of war, conceiving it to be one of the major responsibilities of citizenship.

You have done well, therefore, to ask if anything can be done to correct an evil which is an affront to the intelligence and sense of efficiency of the well-meaning citizen, and which cannot fail to have far-reaching and inevitable results of a far more serious character.

In the State of New York some very interesting reforms have been brought about in court procedure, through the influence of laymen and I am glad to pass the word along, thinking that such accomplishment may prove an inspiration in Pennsylvania.

The data is from an address by Harold R. Medina made in the recent Institute of Law held by the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, co-operating with the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Medina is a distinguished lawyer in New York City and professor of law at Columbia University.

"Recently in New York City a body of laymen made a complaint about the wasteful methods of impaneling jurors. It was found that men would be taken from their occupations and impaneled in the various trial courtrooms where they were compelled to waste two or three weeks mostly sitting around. Only a very short part of the time, say two or three days out of the two or three weeks, were they actually sitting on the trial of a case.

"The recommendation was made that the jurors be all pooled into a certain central room, that they be taken only as actually needed, that only a sufficient number to take care of new cases be held and that the balance be excused until the following day.

"To the amazement of judges and lawyers who had apparently never considered such a change in method, it was found that the new system worked perfectly and that it saved a very great amount of time for the business men called as jurors.

"Another experiment which, as I am informed, was also the result of suggestions by laymen is the method in which trials are run in Cleveland.

"We are all familiar with the customary way in which trial calendars are called. For instance, in the New York Supreme Court in New York City, a judge sitting at one of the trial terms will have anywhere from seventy-five to one hundred and fifty cases on his calendar. At ten o'clock the lawyers, witnesses and parties in all these cases are supposed to be on hand and the cases are called to be sent put to a Part, as we lawyers call it, for actual trial.

"The result is that this enormous crowd of people sit around for an hour or two, then some of them are excused for the day, others are kept sitting around all day long and in most cases made to come back the next day and then again and again.

"The system in vogue in Cleveland is such that a man is placed in charge of the calendar. It is his duty to call up the lawyers on the telephone when their case is about to be reached. They in turn communicate with their parties and witnesses and they arrive in court just in time to actually proceed with the trial of their case."

Main Lines

Chester P. Cook, owner of quite a bit of Narberth's business section, proprietor of the Narberth Bridge Garage and historian of note, has a grievance. It is of long standing, but this is the first time for it to be aired this year. Mr. Cook is one of those Main Line citizens who cannot see why Narberth should maintain its independence of the surrounding township—although that is not the point of his current epistle, which concerns the new triennial assessments. Here it is: what is your comment on his views?

My Dear Mr. Editor:

Has it occurred to you that while all kinds of stocks and bonds, etc., have sunk in value, in some instances nearly seventy per cent. of the 1927 values, yet according to our Lower Merion and Narberth assessors our taxable wealth measured in real estate values has not slipped but in certain instances has advanced in taxable value.

Of course, when you go to sell real estate in our locality it doesn't seem to have any value, and the few sales show—when made—a shrinkage of forty to fifty per cent. of 1927 values. I note that there are about seven properties in the Borough of Narberth—in addition to many along the Main Line—advertised by the Sheriff of Montgomery County for sale during January. One belongs to a resident of twenty-five years' standing—a Narberth taxpayer. These sales have been going on for about three years, causing great misery and disappointment to many of our people—for, as you know, a sheriff's sale is a tragedy—death alone in one's family is worse.

Most of us are hooked on the big assessments for the next three years—if we can hold out that long—and if we can't, who cares anyhow?

C. P. COOK.

Seeing a lady crossing Lancaster Avenue the other day, wearing woolen stockings, tumble socks and spats, we came to the conclusion that she must have had cold feet.

Civic spirit develops at quite an early age along the Main Line. Just the other day while the Christmas trees still decorated the sidewalks, a strong wind blew one of the tubs over. It is with regret that we register the fact that several grownups passed by without paying the slightest bit of attention to it. Then along came two youngsters, one with an express wagon, brand new this Christmas, you could see by the shininess of the paint; the other on roller skates, also glisteningly new. Safely mooring the express wagon, they tugged and pulled—until they got the tub in its right position. The express wagon was retrieved and the pair started down the street.

Another sudden puff of wind and over went the tree. The children heard it, looked back and patiently returned to do over again the job of setting it up. This time one of the boys pushed and tugged until he got it just the way he wanted it and off they went again. And the tree stayed upright this time!

But there was a nice spirit displayed by these two. No heedless passing by there.

A sporty LaSalle car parked at Lancaster and Cricket Avenues, on Monday, came in for a lot of attention because it displayed an international license. This was a large white disc with figures on it in black and the U. S. emblem in gilt—or maybe gold—at the top. Officer Stevenson had a lot of inquiries about it.

The Austin's nose is quite out of joint. Crowds no longer hang around one when it parks by the curb.

What do you think of this and that? If it is of Main Line interest, why not write your community paper about it?

What's new? Let your community paper hear about it.

Christmas Seal Receipts

Total $18,201.72 to Date

The Christmas seal sale conducted in Montgomery County by the Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Public Health Society shows a total receipt to date of $18,201.72. This money is used for prevention of tuberculosis, community health work, dental clinics and many other health activities in Montgomery County.

The envelopes with the seals were sent out around Thanksgiving time and many of them may be hidden in desks or drawers and forgotten as many people have not been heard from. The Rev. Robert J. Gottschall, president and county seal chairman, hopes to have every one send in their contribution or their seals as the society needs additional funds with which to continue their health program this year. Tuberculosis is still a serious problem as seventeen persons are killed every day in Pennsylvania, the majority between the ages of 20-45.

The Board of Directors of this society appreciate very much the generous response to this annual appeal and plans to continue its program of health work and work in the rural schools.

Many Popular Plays on Library's Shelves

The tragic death in New York recently of Charles Wesley Hill, who will be remembered for his splendid presentation of Gabriel in "Green Pastures," has reawakened interest in that Pulitzer Prize play which still runs at the Mansfield Theatre in New York to crowded houses. Mr. Hill has been seen here in Philadelphia recently when he took the part of the Captain of the Fleet in "Porgy." For those who wish to read the play of "Green Pastures," the library has the complete score in a book by itself, and it may also be found in long excerpts and resumes in the latest volume of "Best Plays" by Burns Mantle.

This volume of "Best Plays" which has become an annual event since its first publication in 1919 makes it possible for everyone to become acquainted with the best that the theatre has had to offer during the season of 1929 and 1930. The list of plays selected as the "ten best" will meet the approval of those who have been following the theatre this past season as it includes "The Green Pastures," "Criminal Code," "Berkeley Square," "Strictly Dishonorable," "The Last Mile," "The First Mrs. Frazer," "June Moon," "Michael and Mary," "Death Takes a Holiday" and "Rebound." Many of these have been presented at the local theatres, and those who missed them for any reason may gain an adequate impression of them by reading the new volume of Burns Mantle, and those who have seen the plays here or in New York may renew their pleasure by reading the text.

The plays are not given in their entirety, but the long excerpts and brief resumes make it possible for one to imagine that he has seen the whole performance.

In addition to the plays with illustrations from each, there are also chapters on the season in New York and in Chicago, and California, with a complete index of authors, plays and casts.

Mrs. John Austin and Miss Agnes Austin, of Narbrook Park, gave a party New Year's night.

Miss Marie Miesen, of Merion Avenue, was the hostess to the members of her bridge club on Friday evening. Among those present were the Misses Eleanor and Kathryn Burgess, Miss Florence Hutchinson, of Ardmore; Miss Eleanor Diamond, Mrs. Helen Sorenson, Miss Eleanor Diamond, Mrs. Constance Ailen and Miss Harriet Straub, of Ardmore.

Narberth's Favorite RECIPES

What would you have in the way of a recipe? Cakes, pies, an appetizing new way of preparing seasonable vegetables and every-day meats? Or how to use leftovers?

Several of our contributors have asked for a recipe for a deep dish apple pie, English sandwiches for teas or card parties, and salads. What would you like to have? Another who had eaten a delicious pie of cranberries and which was called "Mock Cherry Pie," would like a recipe for this delicious dessert.

In the recipes printed last week and which were submitted by Mrs. R. G. Kraft, of Avon Road, there were unfortunately a number of typographical errors, so we are reprinting them this week.

Ice Box Cookies

1 lb. butter.
1 cup of brown sugar.
1 cup of granulated sugar.
1/2 lb. chopped nuts (when chopping use medium knife).
5 cups of flour.
1 level teaspoon of soda.

Cream the butter and sugar, add the flour and soda, sifted together, and add the nuts. When well mixed, make in long rolls the circumference of cookies. Put in an ice box for twenty-four hours. Remove and slice thinly and bake in very moderate oven until light brown.

These are very delicious cookies and are not expensive as you will have at least thirty dozen cookies. When packing them or putting them away be careful in handling or they will break as they are very brittle.

Devil's Food Cake

1/2 cup of grated Baker's chocolate.
1 egg yoke.
1/2 cup of milk.
Beat egg yolk well and add chocolate and milk. Boil together in a double boiler until a smooth custard is formed. Put this mixture aside and proceed as follows:
1 1/2 cups of sugar.
1/2 cup of butter.
2 egg yolks.
1/2 cup of milk.
1 teaspoon of soda.
1 teaspoon of baking powder.
2 cups of flour.
3 egg whites.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Put to one side. In another good-sized mixing bowl cream butter and sugar, then add the two egg yolks. Sift the flour and baking powder and add to mixture alternately with one-half cup of milk in which the soda has been dissolved. Mix thoroughly. Fold in the beaten whites of eggs and bake in two medium-sized layer cake pans for forty minutes in a moderate oven.

Butter Icing for Cake

This is a very delicious icing and is made of four tablespoonfuls of cream, mixed with enough confectioner's sugar to make thick enough to spread. Then add a liberal-sized lump of butter, a dash of vanilla and salt. When the cake is cool, spread on the icing.

Black Walnut Sponge Cake

1 cup of cake flour.
1/4 teaspoonful of salt.
5 egg yolks beaten light.
1 cup of sugar.
1/2 lemon, juice and grated rind.
1/2 cup of black walnut meats chopped

luncheon and bridge on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell Green, of Woodbine Avenue, attended a large New Year's supper given by Mr. and Mrs. James Herbert Egan, of Fisher's Road, Bryn Mawr, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Green were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Smith, of Swarthmore, at dinner, and later attended the performance of the Swarthmore Play and Players on Tuesday night.

Friends of Mrs. Warren R. Tyson, of Haverford Avenue, will be glad to learn that she is now recovering from an operation for acute appendicitis which she underwent on New Year's night in the Hahnemann Hospital. Mrs. Tyson was stricken suddenly on New Year's Day.

fine and mixed with one-half cup of flour.

5 egg whites beaten light.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add sugar, lemon juice and rind. Fold in sifted dry ingredients. Add the nuts and fold this mixture into the beaten egg whites. Bake in a greased tube pan in a slow oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit) fifty to sixty minutes. Remove from oven and invert the pan.

Chocolate Cake

1/4 cupful of butter.
1 cup of sugar.
2 eggs beaten light.
1/2 cupful of milk.
1 1/2 cupfuls of flour.
3 teaspoonfuls of baking powder.
1/2 teaspoonful salt.

Cream the butter, beat in the sugar and eggs, then alternately the milk and flour sifted three times with the baking powder and salt. Bake in two layers.

Chocolate Filling

1/4 cake of Baker's chocolate melted.
1 egg beaten light.
1 cup of sugar.
1 full rounded teaspoon of cornstarch.
1 cup of boiling water.
A pinch of salt.

1 teaspoonful of vanilla.
Beat egg, add cornstarch to sugar and beat into egg. Add salt, melted chocolate and water.

Cook until thick. Stir constantly. Cool and add vanilla.

These two recipes for these delicious cakes were furnished by Mrs. Pierre Laird, of 112 Avon Road. Try them, they are luscious.

LICHTENBERGER SPEAKER

The Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold an all-day meeting at the Conshohocken Methodist Episcopal Church, Sixth and Fayette Streets, Conshohocken, on Thursday, January 15.

The morning session begins at 10:15. One of the features on the program will be a model meeting of the League of Nations, portrayed by the members of the Federation and arranged by Mrs. William White, chairman of International Relations. This skit is presented by the secretary of the League of Nations Association of Philadelphia.

Among those who have been invited to attend this meeting are Mrs. Frank Miles Day, of Philadelphia, and a number of International Relations chairmen from nearby counties.

Dr. James Pendleton Lichtenberger, Professor of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania, will be the speaker at the afternoon session which convenes at 2 o'clock. His topic will be "Is Modern Civilization Self-Destructive?"

The chorus of the Woman's Club of Royersford will furnish the musical part of the program, and Mrs. David N. Patterson, of Cynwyd, county chairman of Literature, will give an illustrated talk on the art of book reviews.

Besides the above-mentioned interesting features, there will be a flower show, consisting of dish gardens and other flowers, arrangements for which prizes will be awarded. Box luncheon—coffee will be served.

Approve Plans for $300,000 M. E. Church in Cynwyd;

Thirty new members are expected to affiliate with the Bala-Cynwyd M. E. Church at its 11 A. M. service this Sunday, according to the Rev. Franklin Duncombe, minister of the church. Methodism's leader for the Philadelphia area, Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, will preach at the morning service.

On display Sunday will be drawings of the proposed "Methodist Episcopal Cathedral of the Main Line," to be erected on land that includes the site of the present Cynwyd M. E. Church.

Approval has been given plans made by Architect Charles W. Bolton for four buildings—a cathedral sanctuary, a unique tower, an educational building and recreation center, and a new manse. The cost is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $300,000. Bids for its construction are expected to be submitted in the near future.

Unique Condition Reported in Township Finances

For the first time in the history of Lower Merion Township at the close of a year a cash balance was reported after payment of all bills. This condition was made known at a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners on December 29 when a balance of $26,994 was reported.

Contracts for garbage collection were awarded at this meeting on a three-year basis. The contract for the First District of the Township, consisting of Bala, Cynwyd, Merion, Overbrook, Ashland Heights, was awarded to E. Roy Claypoole, of Gladwyne, for $41,961. The Second District contract, comprising the upper section of the Township, went to John and Frank Blascinski, of Newtown Square, at a bid of $44,997.50.

Y Closes Doors of Physical Department

Obsolete Equipment and Insufficient Support Cited as Reasons.

SCHOOLS USED THE POOL

All physical facilities in the Ardmore building of the Y. M. C. A. at 116 West Lancaster Avenue will be closed, effective Friday, January 16, 1931, it was announced this week.

Obsolescence of equipment, inadequate facilities and insufficient demand and support to justify continuance were given as the reasons for the closing order by the Y authorities. The dormitories at 2 W. Montgomery Avenue and auditorium at 116 W. Lancaster Avenue will remain open, it was stated.

The physical department was closed to the public beginning this week but it will remain open for use by school teams, etc., until the 16th. The Y swimming pool has been used for practice and meets by Lower Merion, Haverford, Radnor and Upper Darby High Schools.

The following statement was made on the matter by Y. M. C. A. authorities:

"The present building does not afford an opportunity to offer to the men, women, boys and girls of Ardmore and surrounding districts a program that is in step with the present needs.

"The income from activities and memberships, together with the contributions received, falls far short of carrying the expenses involved.

"The association realizing the disappointment to some of its members has arranged to do one of two things:

- (1) Make a cash refund covering the unexpired portion of the physical privileges, or
- (2) Have the unexpired period transferred to either the West Building, Fifty-second and Sanson Streets; the Central Building, 1421 Arch Street, or the North Building, 1013 W. Lehigh Avenue.

"Membership in the Ardmore Building is good at either of these buildings until the expiration date shown on the membership card."

Raiders Win Two Games During Week

The Raiders Boys' Club of Narberth defeated the Golden Bears of Wynnefield last Friday night by the score of 25-20. Parks starred for the Borough team with four field goals and one foul. Taylor was high scorer for the Golden Bears with six field goals. This is the second win of the Raiders over the Bears this season. Last year the Bears were defeated twice by the Raiders.

The Raiders tucked away another victory on Monday night when they defeated the Merion A. C., 16-15, at the Narberth School. Captain Ed McGarry led the Raiders with four field goals.

By winning this game the Raiders clinched third place in the Main Line Junior Basketball League. The Warriors are in first place, Gladwyne second, Raiders third, Merion fourth, and the Narberth scouts holding down the cellar.

Tomorrow night at the Narberth School, the Raiders will play the "Wizards," of West Philadelphia, who are undefeated in nine starts this season.

Wednesday, the Raiders play Gladwyne at Narberth School. All games start at 8 P. M. There will be a second-team game on Saturday night at 7:15.

Lower Merion Swamps Friends' Central Five

Rolls Up 40-9 Score Against Academy Team on Tuesday.

TEAM PLAY IMPROVES

Lower Merion reached peak form Tuesday afternoon and turned back a fighting basketball team from Friends' Central Academy by an overwhelming score, 40 to 9. The Maroon team, with each member playing in splendid form, started off at the toot of the first whistle to ring up the score. On a pretty play from center John Pennypacker got the ball and made a perfect pass to Johnny Eaton for a basket before the visitors knew the game was under way. And thus it was during the greater part of the contest. Between the shooting of Pennypacker and Eaton and the fine defensive work of the two guards, Hughie Wynn and Jim Bradford, and the captain and center, Jim Turner, the game was just about a complete shutout.

Late in the first half Anderson sent in the second-string five, who held the visitors scoreless while scoring three points themselves. The same situation occurred at the close of the game with the second-team boys scoring consistently.

Eaton was again the heavy scorer, while Pennypacker and Turner also scored consistently along with Hughie Wynn. Pennypacker's floor game was good with the exception of his work under the basket, while Turner played well in the pivot position. Bradford and his little running mate Wynn held the visiting forwards to one field goal.

Blaker was the best of the Friends' Central crowd, although they all played hard against odds.

The lineup and summary:

Lower Merion	Friends' Central
Eaton	Forward.....F. Hinkle
Pennypacker	Forward.....Fisher
Turner	Centre.....Castree
Bradford	Guard.....Blaker
Wynn	Guard.....Robertshaw
Lower Merion	15 10 5 10-40
Friends' Central	1 2 3 3-9

Field goals—Lower Merion: Eaton, 7; Pennypacker, 3; Turner, 3; Wynn, 2; Rose, 2. Friends' Central: F. Hinkle, Blaker, 2. Foul goals: Lower Merion—Eaton, 2; Pennypacker, 3; Blaker. Friends' Central—F. Hinkle, Quinlan, Castree. Substitutions—Lower Merion—Blair for Eaton, Fryberger for Pennypacker, Rose for Turner, Williams for Bradford, McCoy for Wynn. Friends' Central: Quinlan for Fisher, Baker for Castree, Sullivan for Robertshaw, J. Hinkle for Quinlan.

'TIME OUT'

By Tommy Macklin

"Lardie" Davis, assistant coach of Pennsylvania's Red and Blue basketball team, believes the boys will come through before the year is over to show great improvement in the new style of play adopted by Lon Jourdet. The short passing, pivot play game is difficult for the boys left over from the McNichol regime. We have seen every home game of the season at the Palestra, and Penn certainly is showing a fine fighting spirit and a degree of improvement in each new contest.

If Sander can learn all that "Lardie" knows about center play, he will be a sensation before he is through at Penn.

As we stated before, we can see only one outcome for the A league division of the Suburban race and that will be a repeat for Bill Anderson's Maroons.

Haverford is formidable, according to reports, but most of their prestige comes from the victory over Episcopal, the team that was supremely lucky to win from Lower Merion. Lucky in the fact that they caught the boys from Ardmore in their first game of the season before they were organized. Pennypacker and Turner missed enough easy baskets in that first game to defeat their opponents by a big margin. On the other hand, Haverford barely nosed out the boys from City Line on the home floor, and too much emphasis on that game should not be indulged in.

And another thing, as Gump would say. Haverford High School varsity players have enough to think about without having the added mental hazard of so much talk about them being champions in this and that. Give that fine bunch of boys a fighting chance to forget themselves and play the game. We'll gamble that Allie Cornog would like to murder some of the fellows who keep saying that Haverford is so hot in this or that sport. It's a great handicap for a coach to overcome. (Yes, we're guilty, too.)

We are great rooters for Haverford teams, and the boys who make up their personnel are true sportsmen. A number of them came over to Lower Merion High School on Tuesday to see the game between Lower Merion and Friends' Central. After watching

Johnny Eaton play the first half, the Haverford boys were warm in their praise of his ability. That's good stuff. Might as well give a little credit to the other fellow if he delivers the goods.

It isn't Eaton, though, that Haverford and the other Suburban schools have to worry over. It's the Maroon team play that will defeat the opposing teams again this year. And those of you who thought Anderson's team would be only a shadow of last year's ensemble, just watch that group this year. Who can replace Alfred D'Amora, and who can replace Alfred Mandes in the important guard positions? With a quick answer we reply Jim Bradford and Hughie Wynn. Don't take our word for it, just wait and watch results. And if you doubt the scoring ability of Pennypacker, Turner and Eaton, you doubt in vain.

Anderson has another wonderful team, and it's the consistent team-play of his coaching system that makes them good.

After piling up a five-point lead in the first half of the game, Radnor lost to Upper Darby, Tuesday, by a 26-to-21 score. Campbell again led Upper Darby in point-getting, and his work at the pivot play under the basket aided the team to its victory.

Norristown, who plays here tonight, looked good in their game against Reading last week. Tonight's fuss will have all the thrills of a Lower Merion-Norristown affair.

Johnny Longaker refereed the game last Tuesday between Lower Merion and Friends' Central. Bill Anderson, someone tells me, coaches Lower Merion. Doug Crate coaches Friends' Central. All three men are former Lafayette court stars. Bill Anderson was captain of his team at Lafayette, then he became coach and had on his teams at Easton Longaker and Crate, both of whom were captains in their senior year at college. Quite a Lafayette affair, what?

Stanley Thomas, forward on Anderson's Lower Merion team two years ago, is going great at Lafayette this year as a sophomore and forward on the varsity basketball team.
